The dispatch from Washington, printed in a morning paper, attributed to the Agent of the Associated Press, states that Secretary Stanton and Adjutant-General Thomas would resign, was not sent by the Agent of the Associated Press; and moreover, we are assured that neither Mr. Stanton nor Gen. Thomas has any intention of resigning.

Special Dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Monday, Sept. 8, 1862.

REPORTS FROM THE FRONT.

An officer who has ridden along the line from Chain Bridge to Fairfax Seminary to-day, says that small bodies of mounted Rebels are constantly prowling about in our front, snapping up the unwary, and keeping all the camp on the alert. An intelligent surgeon, just from Centreville, with wounded, says that only one regiment of rebel cavalry, North Carolina, Col. Flannery, is visible at Centreville, and its scouts and pickets occupy the country to the eastern slope of Fairfax.

It was reported there and believed that Bull Run was held by Rebel artillery and infantry in some force. All the hospital stores left at Centreville on Tuesday morning for the benefit of the Union wounded were taken by the Rebels on their occupancy, and distributed largely to their own hungry troops; hence much of the suffering on the battlefield by our finished wounded.

The surgeon in charge states that he has not been informed by Gen. Pope that no evacuation of that point was intended, he should have devised the ample supplies to their original purpose, by starting them under a flag of truce to the field. All reports agree that the Rebel officers, as a rule, treated our wounded humanely and our prisoners according to the laws of war.

LARGE RECEIPTS OF HOSPITAL STORES.

The Sanitary Commission is in receipt of a greater amount of hospital stores than ever before, and seems industrious in their disbursement. A very large quantity of stores and a corps of nurses were dispatched to the new front last evening.

RESPONSE OF WEALTHY CITIZENS AS NURSES.

In searching through the hospitals for the recent wounded, we find among the volunteer nurses arrived last week some of the wealthiest and best known citizens of the different Northern States.

THE INQUIRY INTO THE CAUSES OF RECENT DISASTERS.

Strictly speaking, we were in error in saying that the order for a Court of Inquiry into the causes of recent disasters had been countermanded, although, in point of fact, we were not wide of the truth. The Court has only been suspended. It met to-day, and adjourned for a week without doing any business. It is exceedingly doubtful whether any business will ever be brought before it.

GEN. McDOWELL'S LETTER FOR AN INQUIRY.

Those who have seen Gen. McDowell's letter to the President, asking for a Court of Inquiry, speak of it as a frank, manly, and honest document. He refers to the remark alleged to have been made by Col. Broadhead of Michigan, when at the point of death, to the effect that he "Died a victim to the imbecility of Pope, and the treachery of McDowell," and goes on to say that he desires a thorough investigation, not only into the facts out of which such a charge may have sprung, but into all the circumstances connected with his campaigns from the beginning.

SIR, STANTON AND GEN. MCLELLAN.

Secretary Stanton and Gen. McClellan are on such terms that the latter took tea with the former on Saturday evening.

PROMOTION.

Lt.-Col. Kline of the Bucktail Rifles has been appointed a Brigadier-General.

GEN. BURNIDE'S QUARTERMASTER DEPARTMENT.

In the absence of Gen. Burnside's Chief Quartermaster, Lt.-Col. Biggs, Capt. Wm. Holden, A. Q. M., is acting in his place, and his staff of clerks were set to work to-day. Lt.-Col. Meurs, of Doubleday's brigade, late Acting Post Commissary at Falmouth Station, has been transferred, by order of Gen. Burnside, to Col. Biggs's department.

ARRIVAL OF MORE WOUNDED.

Two hundred and thirty-two wounded soldiers from the Bull Run battle-field arrived this morning in ambulances, and were assigned to the Emory, Douglass, and other hospitals. A train of one hundred ambulances has returned to Centreville to-day, under flag of truce, to bring away the remaining wounded in hospital at that place.
